The diagram consists of a grid of symbols and letters. The top row contains a vertical bar, a capital G, and a symbol resembling a lowercase 'i' with a dot above it. Below these are several rows of Arabic script, including 'ضرضي' and 'نھ شخ'. There are also Latin letters like 'U' and 'P', and mathematical symbols like '%o' and '≠'. The bottom section includes more Arabic script, a downward arrow, and the word 'w'.

A diagram showing a 4x4 grid of squares. The leftmost column is highlighted with a vertical line. The symbols in the grid are as follows:

		$\sim$
	$\tilde{W}$	$\tilde{W}$	$\uparrow$

Additional symbols are placed near the grid:

- W and τ are located between the second and third rows, to the right of the grid.
- $\tilde{W}$ is located below the first column, to the right of the vertical line.
